Re: Taylor, William LeeDecember 23, 2014*Page 2

Probation Office at which time Mr. Taylor again admitted to using methamphetamine, this time on December 17, 2014. Mr. Taylor signed a drug use admission form documenting the use. During the contact, Mr. Taylor stated that he would be staying at his current residence that evening, but since he had fallen behind on his rent, that would be the last night at that residence. Mr. Taylor indicated that he had a pro-social prospect for housing, but stated that he did not know the address. Mr. Taylor agreed to notify the undersigned officer of where he would be staying after he was completely out of his current residence. In addition, during the office visit Mr. Taylor agreed to participate in inpatient treatment. The undersigned officer directed Mr. Taylor to provide the U.S. Probation Office with the address of where he would be staying, and to make himself available by telephone, as I could have an inpatient bed available for him as soon as that day.

On December 19, 2014, the undersigned officer, learned that Adept needed Mr. Taylor to be present at 0900 hours on Monday, December 22, 2014, for an assessment. The undersigned officer immediately placed a call to Mr. Taylor leaving him a message to return the undersigned officer's phone call, and to report to Adept on Monday, December 22, 2014, for an assessment. Mr. Taylor did not report to Adept as directed, and has not provided the undersigned officer with an updated address of residence as required. In addition, Mr. Taylor has not made contact with the U.S. Probation Office since his December 18, 2014, office visit, despite numerous voice mails and text messages directing him to do so. On December, 23, 2014, the undersigned officer learned that Mr. Taylor had not only missed his chemical dependancy assessment, but that he had also missed a random urinalysis test with Adept that had been scheduled for December 22, 2014. Mr. Taylor's whereabouts are currently unknown and he is considered an absconder.

I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct.
